

So, Julie says: "I have to show up"...(that's when the writing will happen...)
Yep...she is right...My excuses...the dog, the man, the sons, the vacuuming, the bread, the soup...swimming
The brilliant fall outdoor colors.
The canoe
The hike
So many reasons, the denial of the soul, the inner spirit lies

And my computer that is full to the brim with disorganized notes, photos, writings...musings, all going where?
An overloaded out of storage Google Documents that refuses to swallow any more offerings

So, finally, after listening to April Baer on the radio I sit down Turn my back on the news local, international Israel, Gaza, Lebanon, Egypt, Russia, Ukraine, Hezbollah, Hamas

House or Representatives, oops House of Representatives

Jim Jordan, Rashida Tlaib
Jack Bergman of Watersmeet, Michigan, as close to Wisconsin as you can get

"Joe" my white oak tree planted on November 3, 2020 on the north side of the house before we knew the results.
This soul tree is still alive surviving the northern exposure
Oak leaves change their colors later than the maples more subdued

Thanks Julie! October 20, 2023 5:41pm

Oh thank you Carol, you showed up! Good for you. I'm putting it up right now, so check back in awhile and you can see it in all its glory!

Do you have a picture of "Joe" you might like to use with the writing? I like putting up an image along with the writing.

also, a title?
