In This Workshop We Will:

- Create Mind & Body Memory Maps--accessing what needs to be healed within us.
- Pick a memory that calls to us the most strongly.
- Walk across the wetlands boardwalk and into the forest.
- Hand our memories to the forest, asking that it give us Metaphors that will help us create fictional stories from our memories.
- Return to the house and cluster what we were given, opening the metaphors to reveal further information.
- Write together silently, using these clusters and metaphors as roadmaps.
- Share our work with each other & comment on what we find memorable in the work (Julie will lead these discussions, using her Amherst Writers & Artists training).
- Experience the healing transformation that occurs within our sacred circle.
- Leave with new, imaginative material that can be revised and edited for publication, if desired.
